

Everyone's coastline

ISN'T it time for government to realise that the immediate coastline belongs to all, not just big business. If you want fish farms, then they should be at least 2km from any coastline.

Raymond Harvey
Claremont

Mercury 2 Sept 2017