

Mercury 24 July 2017

Just be our natural selves

HIGH rise? Tasmania has too much natural beauty to need dependence on “exotic” tourism. Other countries have nothing to compare, and depend excessively on introduced buildings. Let’s be our natural selves and be grateful for our inherited natural beauty, in high demand.

Melva Truchanas
Kingston