

Save city's charm

DEVELOPERS determined to leave their 'mark' on Hobart's skyline seem to have no understanding of the natural values that make Hobart such a beautiful place to live and visit.

The ill-conceived proposals for 120m and 75m high hotels in the city and a cable car up Mt Wellington would irreparably damage our skyline for the financial benefit of a few.

I hope the aldermen will consider the best interests of all Hobartians when assessing these applications — not just the ambitions of a few well-connected individuals.
